

www.Tri-CountyRegion.US

Is a web site mostly for Emmons = > Logan and McIntosh Counties.

Potential customers are being pulled from the “Tri – County Region” into the following towns as customers out to Bismarck, Jamestown, and Aberdeen. SD.

Here is a chance to pull some of those customers back.

The 24 “Tri – County Region” town areas are:

Alfred - Ashley – Braddock - Edgeley – Ellendale – Eureka, SD –
Fredonia - Forbees - Gackle - Hazelton – Hauge - Jud - Kulm - Kintyre - Lehr - Linton – Merricourt - Monango - Napoleon – Steele
- Streeter - Strasburg - Wishek – Zeeland. Just to list a few.

If the potential auto customers will drive 100 miles then they can be persuaded to drive to an auto dealership closer that is alive for the customer.

May call John Huberty at Tel: 701-269-5128

Chevy Suburban, born in 1935

PFEIFLECHEVROLET-BUICK INC.

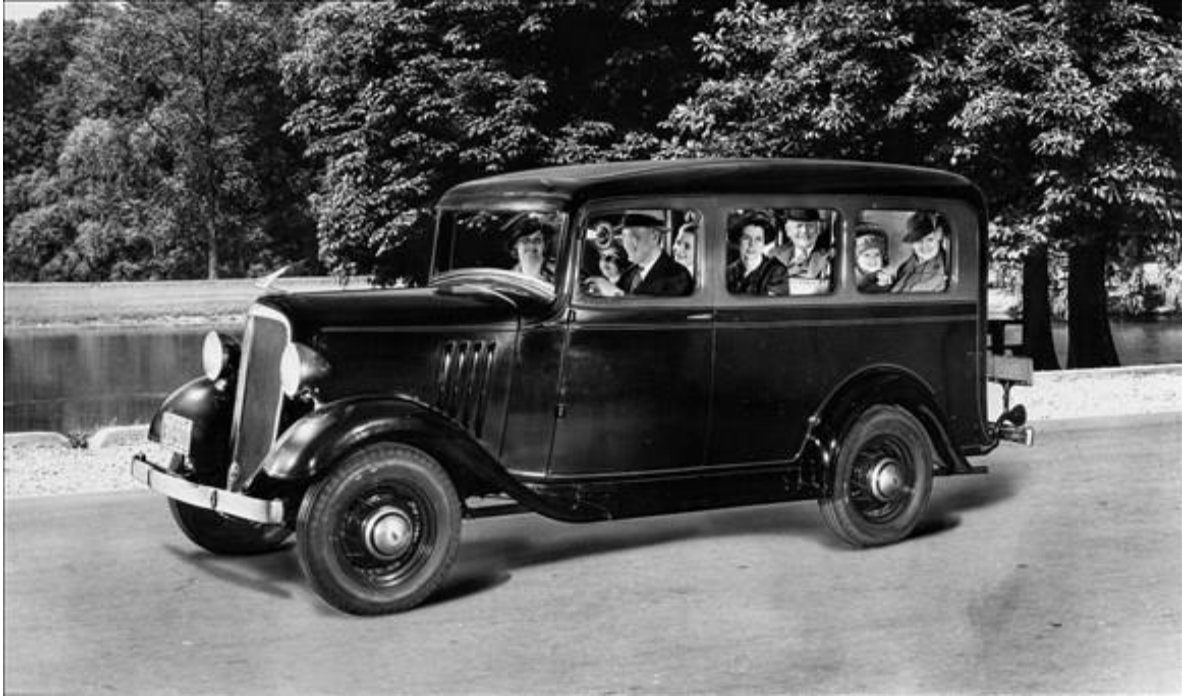

We pride ourselves in being here since 1935 as a dealership.

Chevy Suburban, born in 1935, is now an icon

This American automotive fixture has come a long way from its beginnings before World War II, so check out how it has evolved over 10 generations of models.

No automotive nameplates have survived nearly as long as the Suburban, but as Chevrolet debuts the new 2015 Suburban, we're taking a look at this legendary model's history. What started in the 1930s as a two-door, eight-passenger people-mover with 60 hp. has morphed into an imposing yet still capable 355 - hp. SUV with a luxury price-tag if you're not careful with the options. So as you read the First Test of the 2015 Chevrolet Suburban and 2015 GMC Yukon XL, take a look at how the Suburban has evolved over more than 10 generations.

1935 Chevrolet Suburban Carryall Front Three Quarters

Generation 1: 1935-1936

The 60-hp Suburban Carryall arrives with two doors and room for eight people.

1939 Chevrolet Suburban

Generation 2: 1937-1940

The output of GM's Stove bolt inline six-cylinder engine jumps to 79 horses, and additional style changes give this Suburban a look that lasts until 1956.

1946 Chevrolet Suburban

Gen 3: 1941-1946

As the Arsenal of Democracy halts most car production to make war machines, the Suburban continues, though it's typically painted olive drab and has a star on its doors.

A four-door model is included.

1951 Chevrolet Suburban

Gen 4: 1947-1955

The grille goes big and horizontal, and GM boosts the inline-six's output to 90 hp. and 174 lb.-ft. Still, the Suburban is considered more of a work vehicle than a family hauler.

For families, wagons rule.
